Nutrition Tracking for Corporate Meal Programs

The Problem

Your clients invest in quality meals for their teams. But employees have no easy way to track what they're eating, hit their nutrition goals, or see how your meal plans support their health.

That's a missed opportunity — for their wellness, and for your business.

FitSorted is a WhatsApp-based nutrition tracker built for South Africa. We partner with meal providers to give your corporate clients a branded, effortless calorie and macro tracking experience — powered by your actual menu.

How It Works

1Employee Texts Bot

Type what you ate or snap a photo. No app needed.

2Instant Tracking

Calories, protein, carbs, fat — logged in seconds.

3Daily Check-ins

Morning recap and evening summary via WhatsApp.

For Employees

Pick from today's menu with exact nutrition data — no guessing. Or type/photograph any meal. Get daily check-ins and track progress over time.

For Corporate Clients (HR / Wellness)

Weekly nutrition reports per team. Wellness KPIs: average calories, macro balance, participation rates. Zero setup — employees click a link to join.

For You (The Meal Provider)

Unique referral codes per corporate client. Monthly dashboard with signups, active users, and most popular meals. A premium value-add that differentiates you from competitors.

Example Scenarios

Corporate Client	Active Users	Monthly Cost
Small office (50 people)	~30	R225

Medium company (200 people)	~120	R900
Large corporate (500 people)	~300	R2,250
Full capacity (1,000 people)	~600	R4,500

You set your own markup to corporate clients. Many wellness providers charge R15–25 per employee for similar tools.

Why WhatsApp?

95% of South Africans use WhatsApp daily. Zero friction — no app store, no login, no password. Works on any phone including budget Android. Higher engagement than any standalone app.
